A Bizarre Shrine Where the Stars and Stripes Are Flown Twice a Year (Kokonoe-jinja Shrine) (MAP2)

This shrine was built in the year 660. The main building had been established as a rhythmical, important center of worship. The shrine used to hold a annual event in which the stars and stripes are flown and is visited by tourists from all over the world. There are also many other shrines in the area.

ACCESS
- Kinku Line - approx. 30min walk from Kokonoe Station, approx. 15min walk from Ito Station, approx. 30min walk from Takamori Station, approx. 20min walk from Kokonoe Station
- Space Art in Japan - September, 2020 to June, 2021, 10am to 7pm, November 2020 to March 2021, 10am to 5pm
- www.kokonoe-jinja.co.jp

An Old Stone Boat at A 701 Muku Shrine (MAP5)

This shrine was built with an old architectural style and is known as the “Mukou Shrine” because it has been designated as a cultural property of national significance.

ACCESS
- Kinku Line - approx. 3min walk from Nishin Station
- Space Art in Japan - 2021, 10am to 5pm, Space Art in Japan - 2021, 10am to 5pm, November 2020 to March 2021, 10am to 5pm
- www.kokonoe-jinja.co.jp

A Temple That Changes at Autumn: Zenkō-ji Temple (MAP3)

The Zenkō-ji Temple, also known as the “Temple of the North”, is one of the most important Buddhist temples in Japan. It was founded in the year 735 and is located in the city of Nagano. The temple is known for its beautiful architecture and traditional art. It is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

ACCESS
- Kinku Line - approx. 30min walk from Yataishi Station, approx. 15min walk from Shinjuku Station
- Space Art in Japan - 2021, 10am to 5pm, Space Art in Japan - 2021, 10am to 5pm, November 2020 to March 2021, 10am to 5pm
- www.kokonoe-jinja.co.jp

A View of Yamanouchi Whichile Hiking mount Kita-Myoko (MAP3)

Located at the top of Mount Myoko, this trail is about 7.5 km long and takes about 5 hours to complete. Visitors can enjoy breathtaking views of the surrounding mountains and the snow-capped peaks.

ACCESS
- Kinku Line - Onsen Station, approx. 30min walk from Kita-Myoko Station, approx. 20min walk from Shinjuku Station, approx. 15min walk from Shinjuku Station
- Space Art in Japan - 2021, 10am to 5pm, November 2020 to March 2021, 10am to 5pm
- www.kokonoe-jinja.co.jp

A Quiet Shrine in a Quiet Town: Takanashi Shrine (MAP3)

This shrine is one of the oldest shrines in Japan and is located in the town of Takanashi. It is known for its beautiful architecture and traditional art. The shrine is a popular destination for tourists and is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

ACCESS
- Kinku Line - approx. 45min walk from Yataishi Station, approx. 15min walk from Shinjuku Station
- Space Art in Japan - 2021, 10am to 5pm, November 2020 to March 2021, 10am to 5pm
- www.kokonoe-jinja.co.jp

A Temple That Changes at Autumn: Zenkō-ji Temple (MAP3)

The Zenkō-ji Temple, also known as the “Temple of the North”, is one of the most important Buddhist temples in Japan. It was founded in the year 735 and is located in the city of Nagano. The temple is known for its beautiful architecture and traditional art. It is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

ACCESS
- Kinku Line - approx. 30min walk from Yataishi Station, approx. 15min walk from Shinjuku Station
- Space Art in Japan - 2021, 10am to 5pm, November 2020 to March 2021, 10am to 5pm
- www.kokonoe-jinja.co.jp

A Quiet Shrine in a Quiet Town: Takanashi Shrine (MAP3)

This shrine is one of the oldest shrines in Japan and is located in the town of Takanashi. It is known for its beautiful architecture and traditional art. The shrine is a popular destination for tourists and is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

ACCESS
- Kinku Line - approx. 45min walk from Yataishi Station, approx. 15min walk from Shinjuku Station
- Space Art in Japan - 2021, 10am to 5pm, November 2020 to March 2021, 10am to 5pm
- www.kokonoe-jinja.co.jp

A Temple That Changes at Autumn: Zenkō-ji Temple (MAP3)

The Zenkō-ji Temple, also known as the “Temple of the North”, is one of the most important Buddhist temples in Japan. It was founded in the year 735 and is located in the city of Nagano. The temple is known for its beautiful architecture and traditional art. It is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

ACCESS
- Kinku Line - approx. 30min walk from Yataishi Station, approx. 15min walk from Shinjuku Station
- Space Art in Japan - 2021, 10am to 5pm, November 2020 to March 2021, 10am to 5pm
- www.kokonoe-jinja.co.jp

A Quiet Shrine in a Quiet Town: Takanashi Shrine (MAP3)

This shrine is one of the oldest shrines in Japan and is located in the town of Takanashi. It is known for its beautiful architecture and traditional art. The shrine is a popular destination for tourists and is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

ACCESS
- Kinku Line - approx. 45min walk from Yataishi Station, approx. 15min walk from Shinjuku Station
- Space Art in Japan - 2021, 10am to 5pm, November 2020 to March 2021, 10am to 5pm
- www.kokonoe-jinja.co.jp

A Temple That Changes at Autumn: Zenkō-ji Temple (MAP3)

The Zenkō-ji Temple, also known as the “Temple of the North”, is one of the most important Buddhist temples in Japan. It was founded in the year 735 and is located in the city of Nagano. The temple is known for its beautiful architecture and traditional art. It is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

ACCESS
- Kinku Line - approx. 30min walk from Yataishi Station, approx. 15min walk from Shinjuku Station
- Space Art in Japan - 2021, 10am to 5pm, November 2020 to March 2021, 10am to 5pm
- www.kokonoe-jinja.co.jp